Prom Tickets On Sale Soon

"Swing and Sway with Sammy Kaye" is the theme and title of the Junior Prom to be held November 9, from 9 p.m. to midnight in the Commons. "Swing and Sway with Sammy Kaye" is also the theme and title of the concert to be held from 7 to 8 p.m. on that same night in the college auditorium.

Tickets for the prom and concert will go on sale in the CUB Information Booth October 29. Tickets for the Prom are priced at $2.00 per couple and tickets for the concert are priced at 75 cents per person or 50 cents per couple; with their Prom tickets.

This year, for the first time, only Central students are to attend the Prom, however townspeople are invited to attend the concert, according to Dick Weber, publicity co-chairman. The reason for this move is that for the first time the SGA is paying $1500 of the total $1700 fee charged by the Sammy Kaye orchestra.

Only 250 tickets will be sold. Any money cleared will be placed in the SGA treasury.

Sammy Kaye organized his first band when he was attending Ohio University. The Varsity Inn, his first proving ground, still stands as a college institution and a tribute to the man getting his first break on his way to stardom.

Banquet Tickets Sale Begins Saturday Evening

Tickets are now on sale for the Homecoming Banquet Saturday evening October 27, announced Patsy Evans and Colleen Campbell, co-chairmen of the Banquet committee. The tickets will be on sale in the commons, and the business office. They will cost $2 for alumni and other interested people and 75 cents to students upon presentation of their meal ticket. Tickets will be on sale until Saturday afternoon. The banquet is scheduled for 6 p.m. Saturday evening in the commons.

THE LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE which opens today at the Lazy F Ranch near Ellensburg is the topic of discussion for this group of Centralites who are attending the conference. They are, left to right; Jerry Wenger, Peggy Sharpe, Shirley Willoughby, Don Robertson, and Joan Pierce.

Button Sale Starts Soon

Dorothy Heint and Dave Perkins are co-chairmen of the Homecoming button sale sponsored by FTA, Paul Lambertsen, president, announced this week.

Homecoming buttons will go on sale Monday, October 22 at various hours during the day at the CUB information booth. The committee plans to have these buttons on sale at all Homecoming events so everybody will be given an opportunity to purchase them.

Of interest to students is the fact that the 1956 design on the Homecoming button is in three colors and a very interesting motif has been used, Paul said. Previous years, these buttons have been in just the two color arrangement, so it is hoped the new design will create more interest in getting 1956 Homecoming buttons as souvenirs of the eventful weekend.

Leader's Retreat Begins Tonight

The first Student Leadership Retreat group of CWCE starts on their way to the Lazy F Ranch in Menastash Canyon today. With their purpose (to help acquaint students with methods and ideas on acting as effective leaders in a group situation) in mind, the students will attempt to bring back to Central their new suggestions and ideas.

Beginning at 8 p.m. on Friday, the group will hear the first lecture by Dr. Laura Crowell, Assistant Professor of the University of Washington Speech Department. Following each of the three lectures given on Friday and Saturday, there will be joint meetings of all the delegates and buzz sessions. The final session will give a resume and evaluation of what can be accomplished for the campus.

Some of the problems to be discussed at the sessions are "how to create initiative and interest in campus activities; successful relationships between the organizations, advisors, and faculty; providing a variety of campus activities, and many more problems pertaining to Central."

When the retreat group is not in session, there will be recreation, dinner and clean-up committees and coffee hours to take up their time.

Discussion leaders are Morag Robertson and Jan Kanewisher, living groups; Dick Milne and Judy Lyons, service and social;

$23,000 Donated By Kittitas Valley

In the closing week of the Kittitas Valley Good Neighbor Fund Drive, committee chairman, Reverend Miller C. Lovette, announced that $23,000 has been donated in the support of eight local organizations.

The organizations are: The Red Cross, The Boy Scouts, The Girl Scouts, The Orthopedic Hospital, The Salvation Army, THE YMCA, The Camp Fire Girls, and The Washington Children's Home.

Reverend Lovette is directing the efforts of some one hundred volunteer workers who have been carrying the appeal to thousands of homes and places of business.

Radio Station KXLE cooperated in sponsoring a three hour television show, which was held October 11, in support of the drive.

Many Central students volunteered their talent in the show which starred residents of Ellensburg and vicinity.

Signs, Floats Rules Listed

Stunt nights for Homecoming will be October 25 and 26 in the auditorium, co-chairman Gene Luft and Huberta Peacock announced.

Thursday night, Oct. 25, stunt night will be open to all of Central. The following night, Oct. 26, it is to be open to all townspeople and visitors.

Friday night the trophies will be awarded. There are to be three of them awarded, and stunts will be judged on presentation, originality, and the following of the three themes.

The co-chairmen expect that this year's stunt nights are to be more colorful and bigger than ever.

Signs have a $20 limit this year and the deadline for these is Friday at 6 p.m., along 8th avenue. They must follow one of three themes, "Sweezy Memoirs," "Beat Eastern" and "Welcome Grads."

The initial tryouts were performed in the CES auditorium Oct. 17 and 18—the final dress rehearsals, however, will be held Oct. 22 and 23, Gene said.

Judges for the performances will consist of two faculty members; two townspeople, and two CWCE students. Awards will be presented on stage, by Homecoming Queen, Marge Beauchamp. On Friday night awards will also be given for outstanding signs in the Homecoming sign contest.

Students are urged to attend the Thursday performances so that grads, townspeople, and parents may attend on Friday, the chairman said.

Physical Exams Monday Evening

Athletes planning on taking part in winter sports or students planning on student teaching winter quarter are urged to take the physical examination next Monday in the school gym.

These tests starting at 7 p.m. for women, and 8 p.m. for men will be required of those taking part in the athletic or student teaching program announced Dr. E. E. Samuelson, Dean of Students.

Hearing tests will be held from 8 to 9:30 p.m. the same evening in room 207 of the science building.

Queen Marge Beauchamp to Reign at Homecoming

THESE CENTRALITES WILL REIGN over Homecoming festivities next week. Standing is Queen Marge Beauchamp. Princesses are, left, Marilyn Grove, and right, Marcia Raymond.

Reigning over Homecoming this year will be quite an experience for Queen Marge Beauchamp and her princess Marilyn Grove and Marcia Raymond. Queen Marge, along with her princesses Marilyn and Marcia, were elected by a popular vote of the student body last Friday.

Television is distributing the images of this years Homecoming Royalty and publicity committee over the Pacific Northwest today. Queen Marge Beauchamp, princesses Marilyn Grove and Marcia Raymond were accompanied by Don Mitchell and Barb Conrad, co-chairman of Homecoming on a trip to KING in Seattle today and to KIMA in Yakima last Monday.

Appearing on Bill and Sherry Corcoran's show KING's Kamera this afternoon in Seattle, is part of the job of publicizing Central Washington's Homecoming October 25-27. The entourage plans an informal chat with the hosts of the program about activities for Homecoming and discussing the campus. Reaching many alumni by television is the purpose of these television appearances.

Monday the Queen's party visited KIMA in Yakima to be interviewed by Hugh Davis on his program Holiday Inn. The group stressed the importance of alumni attending Homecoming and listed the large program planned.

Check Your Car

(Editors note. This is the second in a series of editorials on the traffic problem at Central. The first article last week was on reckless driving.)

Not only is there a problem locally on the Central campus revolving around reckless driving, but there is also a problem involving the local townspeople. This problem involves the equipment carried on some cars college students drive. The major complaint by home owners last year was on the loud exhaust systems. There is a similar problem this year.

Chief of Police Kenneth Butler announced that students without the regular type muffler may come down to the Ellensburg police station and the police will check their cars free of charge. If there is defective equipment the police will tell the car owners.

Students may be charged for defective equipment and given fines ranging from $10. The check may aid some students in avoiding this fine.

A city ordinance clearly sets forth restrictions on automobile mufflers.

Ellensburg City Ordinance No. 81040 states that:

"Mufflers and exhaust gases:

"It shall be unlawful for any person to operate a motor vehicle which shall not at all times be equipped with a muffler on the exhaust, there of in good working order and in constant operation to prevent excessive or unusual noise and it shall be unlawful for any person operating any motor vehicle to use a cut out, by pass or similar muffler elimination appliance . . ."

When having a check made for muffler defects, car owners might also have their cars given a general check before they have to face the problems of winter driving..

Many Central students drive over the passes for weekends. Chinook Pass already has snow on it and there will soon be snow on the others. Students driving passes and those planning to drive in Ellensburg during the winter months should check to see that their cars are in good condition and that they have chains and other safety devices.

A quick car check and a few necessary purchases can save fines and damage later.

INTER - VARSITY FELLOWSHIP

Rosalind Rinker was leader at a meeting held last Tuesday evening by the Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship.

Miss Rinker of Seattle led on the subject, "What Is a Christian?" She had each person write in one sentence what he thought most clearly defined a Christian. She then evaluated each of them and discussed them with the group.

Also on Tuesday evening, a Bible Study program was launched. The leaders will have a study of their own every Tuesday evening under Miss Josee Jordan. Then each member of this group will lead a Bible discussion in his dormitory.

Inter-Varsity meets every other Tuesday evening in Room 212 of the Music Building. Everyone is welcome.

WESLEY CLUB

Eleven members of Wesley Club attended the MSM fall retreat held at the Lazy F Ranch last weekend. An attendance of 96 members from colleges in Washington and Northern Idaho attended the weekend meeting.

Those attending from CWCE were Chuck Urdall, Bill Tucker, Pat Short, Ken Weaver, Bill Hagermeyer, Bev Nicholas, Lois Williams, Jack Manning, Barbara Harpster, Sharon Johnson, Peggy Sharpe and Rev. Ronald Hummel, advisor.

The retreat began with dinner Friday evening and was followed with an address by Rev. Alfred Dale. Recreation was a part of the evening activities and a closing worship service concluded Friday activities.

Saturday activities included a business meeting where the resignation of the MSM president was accepted and a new president, Bruce Berney elected for the remainder of his term. Discussion groups were held during the morning followed by horse back riding, hiking and games in the afternoon. The day closed with a communion service in the evening.

Wesley Club meets regularly at 5:30 p.m. each Sunday for a light supper, games, program and recreation at the First Methodist Church.

Group Seeks Students For REW Committees

Plans are underway for Religious Emphasis Week to be held sometime winter quarter. United Christian Council of Fellowship, the sponsoring organization, met last spring and appointed Chuck Urdahl and Bev Farmer co-chairmen to head this annual affair.

Students are needed to help with the preparations for the week and they are asked by Chuck and Bev to either see them or write to Box 612. The advisor for this year is Dr. George Fetter.

Council Absorbs $380 Senior Debt

Money was the main topic of business at the regular Student Government meeting, Monday night. The council moved to absorb the $380 to $390 debt of the senior class, which they incurred from the Junior Prom of last year.

The council also passed a motion to loan the sophomore class $25 to be repaid before the end of fall quarter.

Ken Baldwin has been appointed to the council as a pro tem for Remo Nicoli.

Dale Mitchell was appointed chairman of a committee to find volunteer student help for the SGA office. The purpose of this student help is to keep the office open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. SGA officers will keep their regular office hours, but when none of them are available the office can still be open.

A letter referring to a meeting in California on student travel was referred to the International Relations Club.

President Eisenhower tapped a telegram key Monday at the White House giving the signal to begin work on the billion dollar Upper Colorado River Reclamation Project—the biggest reclamation project ever authorized as a unit.

This program to further harness the Colorado River will include a 700 foot concrete dam near Glen Canyon, Ariz., and a second dam 500 feet high at Flaming Gorge in Northeastern Utah, 300 miles from the first site.

Between $10,000 and $17,000 was stolen Monday afternoon from a Duvall, Washington bank. Duvall is 26 miles northeast of Seattle. After locking several employees and a customer in the bank vault the robber, who was apparently working alone, escaped with the loot in a canvas bag and is still at large.

The Yugoslavs and the US State Department cannot seem to agree on the interpretation of "immunity" provided for in a 75-year-old treaty, concerning consuls now that a vice-council's wife is involved in a suspected shoplifting incident.

Yugoslavs contend that the wife of the Yugoslavian vice-council is entitled to diplomatic immunity while the State Department says the immunity extends only to consuls and vice-councils, not to their relations. She denies the charges insisting that she threw away the sales slips. The case has been postponed a week.

A big Boeing Pan American Stratocruiser was forced down in the Pacific Tuesday and broke in half with 31 persons aboard. A nearby Coast Guard weather ship rescued all the passengers within minutes from the surrounding waters and the plane, which sank within 21 minutes.

Enroute from Honolulu to San Francisco the airliner was forced down 1,000 miles southwest of San Francisco because of trouble with two of its four engines.

Six deaths and one serious accident have occurred in Washington after only three days of legal hunting season. Four deaths were attributed to heart attacks, one to drowning, and one to accidental self-shooting. The hunting injury was also due to the accidental discharging of a gun.

Dear Editor:

It has occurred to us that the only sign informing the public that this is Central Washington College, is poorly located, badly in need of repair, and a disgrace to our campus.

We should like to suggest that a new sign be placed in front of the library and the one by the science building rejuvenated. Perhaps the SGA or some other campus organization can do something about this situation.

"Young Man With a Horn," a non-traditional musical, will be Friday night's campus movie. This picture differs from the run-of-the-mill musicals as it is more of a biography of a personality. Doris Day, Kirk Douglas, Hoagy Carmichael and Lauren Bacall are featured in this story of a red-hot trumpet.

The set for Saturday evening's campus movie is the Berlin airlift. Montgomery Clift and Paul Douglas star in this tale of a German girl's attempts to use an American GI as a passport to enter the United States. "The Big Lift" will be shown at 7 p.m. in the auditorium.

Students of Many Nations Take Classes at Central

By DOROTHY McPHILLIPS

Walking the paths of Central's Campus are students from far places. Some of them are new students, new to the country as well as the college. Others are working for their Master's Degree and have spent several quarters at Central.

Manida Repousis, a shy though friendly young woman from Thailand, traveled 56 hours by air to enter Central during the summer quarter. Manida works for the Department of Mines in her native land.

Alumni Give $500 to Fund

Alumni Association of Central Washington College of Education held a meeting last Saturday in the CUB. Under discussion was the continuation of the $500 scholarship fund contributed by the alumni every year.

The association voted to carry on this fund as in years past. The scholarships are available through the scholarship committee and are to be awarded at the discretion of the group to deserving students.

Nominations were disclosed for next year's officers. Gene Craig of Bellevue was suggested for president; Joe Lassoie, Olympia, first vice president; and Lucille Dorch, Bellevue, second vice president. Al Jewell, Seattle; Pat Glendenning, Moses Lake, and Zila Suttner, were nominated for two year terms on the Board of Directors. Nominated for one year terms were Bob Willy, Mercer Island, and Dr. A. H. Howard, Ellensburg.

Voting will be held at the Alumni Luncheon, the afternoon of Homecoming; all nominations will be open for further suggestion.

Outlined at the alumni meeting was the legislative budget request. Plans were made by attending members to help urge the passing of the budget by the legislature.

Follow Given Rules For Signs, Floats

"Originality and artistic ability shown by the participating groups will no doubt make this year's stunt night the biggest and most enjoyable ever."

Rules state that our opposing team is only to be called by the name it goes by; all of the signs are to be down by 8 a.m. Monday, and floats are not to be left just any place; they are to be well posted as to whose they are.

There will be a $50 limit on floats and if there is anything worth saving on them owners are to take it off as soon as possible when dismantling.

The Queen's Ball will be October 27, Saturday night, with the court entering at 9:30. Admission to the dance will be $1.50.

Dr. Lind Spends Summer On Radioactive Tracers

By FLORENCE BOWEN

Dr. E. L. Lind, chairman of the Division of Science and Mathematics at C.W.C.E., spent the past summer at the Argonne National laboratory at Lemont, Illinois.

This laboratory is operated by the University of Chicago for the Atomic Energy Commission. The Atomic Energy Commission contracts with industrial concerns and universities to operate its various laboratories.

Entering Students In First Recital

Entering music scholarship students appeared on recital for the college, October 16, in the CES auditorium. Competition was held last year in the local schools where the students were auditioned and judged. Those students receiving scholarships were chosen on outstanding music ability.

Names of students who participated are Catherine Aldridge, soprano, Renton; Clydia Barstow, violin, Yakima; Gary Bensen, piano, Gig Harbor; Del Brown, tenor, Spokane; Ron Frazier, baritone, Vancouver, Washington, and Ted Gumeson, violin, Portland, Oregon.

Others were Barbara Hertz, flute, Ellensburg; Faye Johnston, soprano, Ethel, Washington; Florine Lane, mezzo-soprano, Woodland, Washington; Marilyn Legge, soprano, Spokane; Arline Maks, piano, Kent; Eleanor Peter, piano, Ellensburg; Tom Pratt, trumpet, Gig Harbor; Carol Watson, soprano, Olympia; and Mary Wippel, soprano, Ellensburg.

Dr. Lind did research in physical chemistry using radioactive tracers. The particular area of interest of the group with which he was associated was chemistry of chelation. Chelation is the ability of chemical compounds of certain peculiar structure to combine with a variety of metal atoms. It is important in biology because many body substances are able to form chelate type compounds.

Many of these are necessary for life while others are formed accidentally when the compound of a "foreign" metal gets into the body. In this case, the chelate when formed may be poisonous—on the other hand chelation may prevent the metal from acting as a poison.

The difficulty of studying these chelate type compounds prior to the availability of radioactive tracer metals prevented much progress from being made in this subject area until recent years.

It is expected that results of this research project will be published within the next year or so.

Union Board Lists Two New Member

Members are still being accepted in FTA and the deadline for new members is November. Since this is the only professional organization on campus for students preparing to enter the teaching field, the privilege of joining and actually becoming acquainted with educators who are now in the active field of teaching is given members of FTA.

The local chapter of FTA is affiliated with the National Education Association (NEA), Washington Education Association (WEA) and Washington Association of Future Teachers of America (WAFTEA). When dues are paid to the local chapter, a member is automatically a member of all these affiliations. CWCE chapter has the WAFTEA president, Larry Bowen, as a member of its chapter.

Paul Lambertsen, president of the local chapter, extends a special invitation to all education

Cherie Willoughby, Freshman, and Ted Wood, Junior, were appointed representatives to the Student Union Board Board at its meeting Tuesday. Mrs. Olive Schnebly, director of the CUB, reported Leon Stevens was designated to fill in for Jim Webster while he is student teaching.

It was also decided at Tuesday's meeting to take steps to light the front steps of the CUB entrance.

Mrs. Schnebly said the cooperation of the new students has been unequalled. She asked the continued cooperation of all students in keeping the food in the Snack Bar area.

Off-campus students may supplement their lunches and eat in 204 between the hours of 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. Otherwise, food is not to be taken into other rooms in the building.

Business Ed. Busy Dept.

By NANCY LAMPSON

Hail, shrewd business man. Did you say you attended CWCE?

Yes, that snug little building on Walnut and Ninth is your stairway to success, your chance to compete with Ford and Rockefeller or to drill hopeful "will-be's" full of business tactics.

Our business administration department has real potential according to Eugene Kosy, head of the department. The importance of business training has increased tremendously with the growing demand for efficient office personnel and student business education.

An enrollment poll in the business department's office indicated an increased number of twenty-three fellows and gals training themselves for jobs as salesmen, stenographers, accountants, and business instructors. Their goal is not only to train for jobs and skill, but to develop a well rounded personality, capable of managing a good office position.

The department has a large variety of courses planned in one and two year periods and also many special courses for personal use or refresher purposes.

Although the department has outgrown their building facilities and staff, their office equipment is in tip-top shape and none of it is over a year old. The business machines constitute a large variety and one-third of the typewriters are electric.

At the present time there is no active business organization, but Mr. Kosy has hopes for reviving the Campus Business Club or developing a chapter of Future Business Leaders of America.

PEGGY SHARPE, PICTURED ABOVE, is Central's first Danforth Foundation graduate student. Miss Sharpe, a graduate of Bates College in Lewiston, Maine, is spending this year on Central's campus and is available for counseling of student groups.

Campus Hosts Maine Miss, CWCE's First 'Danny Grad'

By JUNE HANSON

All the way from Maine to Ellensburg comes Margaret Ann Sharpe, who likes to be called Peggy. Peggy is Central's first Danny Grad, an arrangement which seems to suit Miss Sharpe and Central very well.

A Danny Grad, for the uninitiated, is a Danforth Foundation graduate student. Eighteen girls from throughout the United States were selected by the Foundation this year and sent to 18 different campuses in every section of the country.

The Danforth Foundation is the creation of William Danforth, president of the Ralston Purina Company. Purpose of the Foundation is that of "aiding in the education of youth, especially in spiritual and moral values." Besides sponsoring its Danny Grads, the Foundation makes higher education possible for future college teachers.

Peggy graduated from Bates College in Lewiston, Maine, last June, although her home is in Chatham, New Jersey. History was her major field, and she minored in education. Future plans are hovering around high school teaching, but are still unsettled.

What is Peggy doing here at Central? That's a difficult question to answer, she'll tell you. She has no definite instructions from the Foundation—her duties are of an intangible nature. Peggy meets with student groups, particularly the church-affiliated clubs, and is available with advice and suggestions whenever she is called upon.

Miss Sharpe invites any Centralite to stop by her office and get acquainted. She can be found in A-307-D between 9 and 11:45 a.m. on any weekday. Her box number here is 919, and she can also be contacted at Sue Lombard, Room 355.

Our Danny Grad is certainly well qualified to assist in student activities. On her own campus, she was active on the debate team and in dramatics, and served as a dorm proctor. She was vice-president of the Bates College Christian Association, chairman of the World Service Fund, and member of the Religious Emphasis Week Committee.

Off-campus, she worked as co-chairman of the New England Regional Christian Student Movement summer conference, and has been camp counselor, Sunday School teacher, and life saver.

Although she feels it is rather early to formulate definite impressions, Peggy knows she is going to enjoy her experience here on the CWCE campus. Both college and community people have been very helpful and friendly, she reports. She only hopes she can be of service to them. Her only complaint so far—she misses the East coast's bright red autumn colors.

Two down and two to go.

That's about the way Central's football schedule could be summed up in relation to tough teams, for the Cats have now had their licks at Whitworth and Pacific Lutheran and still have College of Puget Sound and Eastern to compete with. The University of British Columbia and Western are thrown in with the list of remaining opponents but their performances so far this season seem to make them the least of the Wildcat worries.

Central goes at it tomorrow with CPS in a 2:00 afternoon game at Tacoma and the Cats have a tussle on their hands. CPS sports power galore and has romped over Eastern, 13-0, Western, 35-7, and Whitworth, 19-0, to prove it. Their big line is a bear on defense (it held Whitworth to minus nine yards on the ground) and the Cats are going to have to be at top shape to get by the burly Loggers.

If you happen to be going over to the game tomorrow, stick around for tomorrow night, too, if you want to see another top-notch game. Eastern will be squaring off against Pacific Lutheran Gladiators at Tacoma and that should be another hot battle. Eastern lost to CPS, yes, but that doesn't make them weak and they still have a good chance to throw their weight around for awhile yet. They romped over UBC, 53-7, early in the season and easily downed Whitman last weekend, 27-8, to establish themselves as no wilting flower in the Evergreen. Especially when we at Central recall that Whitman beat our own Wildcats in a close one in the season's opener.

All things considered, it looks like the conference will be getting more interesting with each game.

In another phase of football, MIA has once again appeared on the local scene with the traditional excitement and enthusiasm of flagball. American and National leagues have again been set up and action got underway this week with a full slate of games. Last year's season was rather rudely interrupted and no champs were declared; maybe this year things will go better. The official declaration from the Campus Crier, Friday, December 9, 1955, reads:

"Because there is about a foot of snow on all athletic fields the MIA council decided to call off all the remaining games on the schedule."

And there was snow! Remember? The varsity team had to get a scraper to shovel the snow off Tomlinson field so they could practice. The final game of the season last year was played against Western on Rodeo Field in 15 degree weather. The players wore mittens in the contest and one Western man even came on the field with track warmup leggings over his football pants. The Cats won that game, 32-0, to end the season with their second victory, but only about 50 fans braved the cold to watch the contest. Again I say, maybe things will go better this year.

PITTER PATER: Heard faintly from the science building stockroom last week: "... and here comes the pitch!" ... Coaches Poffenroth and Tappin wear blue and red Central baseball caps on the practice field; coach Tarrant wears a plain red one ... Poem Department: To basketball players and similar creatures — keep up those grades or watch from the bleachers! ... Bud Snaza almost looks like he's bored by it all when standing back to toss a pass; he holds the ball as nonchalantly as a loaf of bread while those big linemen sail toward him ... Quiz Department: Guess what popular Psychology instructor (a lady, no less) lost a dollar on the World Series.

Opening Rounds Of MIA Action Seen This Week

Monday, October 15, at 4 p.m. eight campus crews paired off for clashes which marked the beginning of this season's MIA flagball competition.

Two powerful scoring combinations, Off Campus I and Kennedy, downed their respective opponents, Wilson II and North III, with scores of 20-6 and 30-6.

A closer contest was the one between Alford and Montgomery at east Rodeo Field with Alford coming out on top by a score of 18-12.

In a vigorously disputed game at the P.E. field the hard playing Off Campus V squad drove the Wilson I "Terriers" under 18-0.

In the National League hassles a rugged Wilson III team trounced the Monroe eight 30-6, and Off Campus III edged past North II 6-0.

Other Tuesday contests were won by North I over Carmody, 32-18, and Off Campus IV who was given a forfeit over Off Campus II.

Full Schedule of Games Begins Year for WRA

WRA started out their annual women's sports program with a full schedule of volleyball games Monday night. Eight teams are now entered in the volleyball tournament which will be run off on a double elimination basis. Scores included: Off Campus 40, Munson II 16; Sue I 23, Kamola I 33, and Kamola III 36, Sue II 34.

Girls who are interested in getting into the tournament but have not yet signed up are urged to do so immediately, according to Carol Garinger, secretary and acting president of the group. Miss Garinger also expressed thanks to all those who took opportunity of the WRA car wash which was held last Thursday. She said that the event turned out to be a fine success.

Officers who will be serving WRA this year include Bev Crum-packer, president; Nadine Fallis, vice president; Carol Garinger, secretary; Sharon Hodges, publicity; Pat Callahan, Margie Sweet and Pat Lacey, sports managers, and Marilyn Taylor, social commissioner.

Wildcats Move to Tacoma; Try for Conference Upset

This weekend the Central Washington Wildcats travel to Tacoma where they will meet the conference-leading College of Puget Sound Loggers. The Wildcats must win this one if they are to stay in the thick of the championship race.

Last week's loss to P.L.C. put Central in a two-way tie for third place in the conference standings.

The Loggers, just fresh from a victory over Whitworth, last year's conference champions, will be out to make the Wildcats their fourth victim of the season.

CPS is nursing its most promising bubble since 1954 when they shared the crown with Whitworth. The Loggers' forward wall averages 224 pounds per man. That in itself is enough to discourage opposing backs who plan on going through it. And on top of that, the team leads the conference in total offense. Bill Austin, halfback for the Loggers, is the leading ground gainer in the conference with an average of 6.8 yards per carry and fullback Don Parsons is fourth in total rushing. This pair has been bulling their way through opposing teams in a fairly consistent fashion all season.

Not only do the Loggers have power on the ground but they have a talented passer in quarterback Dick Jarvis. Jarvis, a reserve at the start of the season, has shown great improvement in his passing and also his ability to run the ball. He will probably see considerable action against the Wildcats.

Against two common opponents, Whitworth and PLC, the teams look to be evenly matched. Central stopped Whitworth 19 to 7 while CPS beat them 19 to 0. CPS and PLC played to a 19 to 19 tie at the first of the season and last week PLC beat Central 19 to 13.

The weakest point in the Loggers' team seems to be its pass defense, although they rank second in total defense. PLC, the conference's leading passing team, is the only team to cross the Loggers' goal line more than once. Central's winning chances seem to lie in a good passing attack. This past week Coach Poffenroth has been experimenting with his reserves to try and find a defense that will stop the powerful running attack of the Loggers. CPS has defeated the Wildcats four years in a row, Central's last win being in 1950 when they won by a 7 to 0 count.

Coaches' Corner:

Bud Tarrant New On Coaching Staff

The new face on the Wildcat football coaching staff this year is that of Edward "Bud" Tarrant, more popularly known to men students on campus as Captain Edward Tarrant, formerly of the AFROTC Detachment here on campus.

Bud has a six month's leave of absence from the Air Force to continue studies in physical education under an Air Force subdivision of "Operation Bootstrap" known as "Final Semester TDY" which allows him to continue his college studies here at Central.

The well built 6'3" 205-pounder had plenty of athletic background to prepare him for his coaching position at Central. He started in high school at South High in Denver, Colorado, where he played end on the football squad and center on the basketball team. He followed up in college by playing the end position for a year at the University of Denver.

The Air Force has also given him valuable experience. At Tachikawa AFB in Japan, Bud coached basketball and baseball for the base and combined as a player and coach with the football squad. Versatility seemed to be his byword.

The Captain has now been married eleven years and has two boys in the family, Larry, age nine, and Terry, age seven. He will finish his degree in P.E. this winter quarter then will probably again be shipped overseas on duty with the Air Force. He plans on staying in the Air Force as a career and intermingling coaching with his duties as much as possible.

"I certainly am thankful for the opportunity of working with these kids this year," Bud said. "I think they are as fine a bunch of boys as I've ever worked with. They should go all the way if they work at it."

Big Joe Big Help At Right End Spot

Sportrait's selection this week is Central's big 6' 5" right end, Joe Kominski. Joe is working for his first football letter on the Wildcat eleven.

The 215 pound right end prepped at Yelm High School where he had a very successful 4 years. Joe won his share of letters, picking up four numerals on the grid-iron, three in basketball and three in baseball. He was All-Conference in football at Yelm.

Joe started his college career at Centralia Junior College where he was a strong standout in football, basketball and baseball, and transferred to Central this year. The hard running end has already shown himself to be plenty capable of snagging those vital passes needed for touchdowns, as well as being a standout on defense.

"Good bunch of guys to play with," Joe said. "If we win the next two games I believe we stand a good chance to go on and take the Conference," he added.

The 21-year-old junior is majoring in P.E., but hasn't made any plans as yet on what he will do when he graduates from Central Washington College.

Wildcats Drop Close 19-13 Contest To Suffer First Conference Loss

Pacific Lutheran's Gladiators lived up to their team nickname last Saturday, as they ran and passed their way to a slim 19-13 victory over Central's Wildcat eleven, putting a quick halt to Central's newfound hopes of an undefeated conference season. The Lutes trailed all the way around in most of the statistics but were ahead on the scoreboard where it counted at the end of the game.

Lutes Come Back Hard
It was the Wildcats that started out the contest on a fast note. After the Central kickoff, a Whitworth punt grounded the ball on the Central four-yard line. The Cats moved up to near midfield before the Whits intercepted a pass, but the Central machine took over on a fourth down a few plays later on their own 15 and marched the length of the field for the opening TD. Bud Snaza and Jim Thrasher went for nice gains up to the 37, where Snaza faded back and tossed a long pass to halfback Dale Louk, who gathered it in and went all the way. The try-for-point failed and Central was ahead, 6-0.

Pacific Lutheran came back in the second quarter to go ahead with a TD and extra point. A short Central punt gave the Lutes the ball on the Central 44-yard line, and a series of eight plays, including a 21 yard pass play, gave the Glads their six-pointer. John Fromm carried the mail over from the seven and Tommy Gilmer, the PLC quarterback, drop-kicked for the extra point. The 7-6 score carried throughout the remainder of the half.

PLC picked up insurance touchdown in the third and fourth quarters. Another short Central punt gave the Gladiators the ball on the Central 31 and Fromm again smashed over a few plays later to build the third quarter score up to 13-6. Early in the final stanza the Lutherans moved down to the Central four to again threaten, but it took them longer than they expected to score. A PLC fumble was grabbed by Bud Snaza to give the Cats a life on the six yard line. Two line plays gained little yardage for Central, and on the third down PLC's Jack Newhart snagged a Wildcat pass and went to the one foot line before being stopped by tackle Dave Carnahan. A five yard penalty put the Glads back to the six, but John Fromm found the going no harder from there as he moved over on the next play to get the final PLC touchdown.

Wildcats Stage Rally
Central moved back in an attempt to get back into the game on the following kickoff but fumbled at midfield. The break reversed itself on the following play, as PLC muffed the ball and Central again took over, this time on the 40-yard line of PLC. Bud Snaza carried the pigskin over a few plays later and Chuck Ewers kicked the extra point to bring the Cats up within reaching distance of the Lutes.

And they almost did it, as they took over on their 40 and drove up to the Lutheran 45, as the Wildcat ground game started to click. A pass play was the undoing of the Cats on the next play, tho, as Pacific Lutheran defenders happily picked off the aerial to gain possession of the ball. It was all a matter of running out the clock from there on out. The Glads had little trouble doing that and went home with the victory, 19-13.
